Rise Against Hunger Event Update

Due to circumstances beyond our control, the Rise Against Hunger (RAH) Meal Packing Event scheduled for February 4, 2024, has been postponed due to unforeseen staffing changes taking place at RAH.

Although we have not yet determined when the rescheduled date will be, we are anticipating the new event to be held in the fall (specifically September).

If you signed up to volunteer for the Meal Packing Event in February, please know that you will need to reregister once a new date is determined and shared. Any financial donations and special offerings received thus far have been placed in a restricted fund and will be applied to the future RAH event.

We appreciate your understanding and are looking forward to joining with one another to help change lives in the fight to end world hunger.
